Soloway jump shifts are named for the late American expert Paul Soloway, winner of 5 Bermuda Bowl world championships and the top ACBL masterpoint holder at the time of his passing. They are an alternative to traditional strong jump shifts. Rather than showing a single-suited 17-19 points, a Soloway jump shift is made on three strong hand patterns: Balanced, single-suited, and double-suited with support for partner. With any of these hand types, responder jump-shifts into his longest suit.

Details of each hand type:

1. With a balanced 18-19 HCP, responder jump-shifts into his longest suit. For example, after partner opens 1♣:

   ♠KQ3 Bid 2♦.
   ♥K93
   ♦AKJ8
   ♣K76

   Playing certain methods like SAYC, your 3NT response may show a balanced 16-18 HCP. If playing Soloway, this treatment should be discussed by partnerships because 18 HCP balanced hands can be handled by either method.

2. With a good 15-18 points and a one-suited hand, responder bids his long suit. For example, after partner opens 1♦:

   ♠Q9 Bid 2♥.
   ♥AKJ852
   ♦A4
   ♣K52

3. The final hand type is a two-suiter with a good 15-18 points. Over a minor-suit opening bid, responder needs at least 5-4 shape, with the 4-card holding being in partner's suit. Over a major-suit opening, responder must be at least 5-3, with the 3-card holding in partner's suit. For example, after partner opens 1♥:

   ♠KQJ98 Bid 2♠.
   ♥Q963
   ♦A4
   ♣A6

Note that Bill Root and Richard Pavlicek, in their book "Modern Bridge Conventions", suggest 17+ points for Soloway jump shifts. The exact point range is up to partnership agreement, and requires discussion about how to handle 19+ hands.

Opener's Rebids

The jump shift asks opener to relay to the next-higher bid. Thus, if responder bids 2♦, opener should rebid 2♥. If responder bids 2♥, opener should rebid 2♠, and so on.

Responder's Rebids

After opener's relay, responder clarifies his hand pattern by one of the following bids:

1. Bidding no-trumps at the cheapest level shows a strong balanced hand.
2. Rebidding the jump shift suit shows the single-suited hand.
3. Bidding partner's suit shows the two-suited hand without a singleton or void.
4. Bidding a new suit shows the two-suited hand with a singleton or void in the bid suit.
